

AUTHENTIC READER | AUTHENTIC SELF

AUTHENTIC READER | AUTHENTIC SELF

Choose books you are interested in

Write summary after reading

Write vocabulary you don't know

Read something everyday

---

“I was learning by using “Longman Preparation Course for the TOEFL,” TOEFL reading section practice book. There is a great “Reading Diagnosis and score” chart to know which skills I need to study more and which skills I already have enough knowledge. When I reflect on my learning I needed to make the most of that diagnostic chart to know more about my own skills...That must be helping me to make more effective strategies to improve my reading skills for TOEFL reading.” - Soichi

“When I read some scientific articles on the internet, I find some vocabularies which I remembered by the cycle and I can understand the meaning of that. In addition to that, I can understand more about in scientific and medical fields...Even I can tell (output) somebody about that topic, it is because I write a summary for each topic. It was very helpful strategies.” - Narumi